The Bowels of the Living Tomb

If the Imprisoned Miners Escape the Fire Pilfering Rats Will Gnaw Them Be-yond Recognition,

There is no longer any hope. All faith in the industrious rescuers has been abandoned. The entombed miners can not be rescued. A furious fire has scaled their fate, and if their dead bodies escape the hungry flames, the pilfering rate that infest the mines will have gnawed them beyond recognition. Death never came to men in a more revolting form, and affliction never fell heavier on the bereaved. This has been an awful, yet even a greater disaster threatens. A fire, fierce as a whirl-wind, is raging for 2,000 feet down into the yawning mouth of the Hill Farm mine. Deadly gas has generated back of the burning, and the penderous hill into which the Hill Farm, the Ferguson and the Mahoning pits are driven is a mighty magazine, fairly pregnant with death, the lightest stroke of a minor's pick would explode it. The effect of such an explosion would be awful to contemplate. The rescuing party has been withdrawn from the face of the Mahoning pit. A strong of the Mahoning pit. A strong guard has been placed at the mouth of the Ferguson mines to keep out the impatient, restless miners who would rescue the unfortunate on their own account. The flames at the Hill Farm Mines are not enough to drive away invaders. Fire broke from the mouth of the Hill Farm pit shortly after nine o'clock Friday night It followed promptly after the drill en-tered the burning mine. For two hours before the flames burst out huge bil-lows of smoke, black and deadly, rolled over each other into the air and drifted upward. A rumbling, rushing sound, like a swiftly-moving train, through a tunnel, ceded the flames. Secretary Watchern and Superintendent Hill were at the pit mouth awaiting the outbreak. To the experts the smoke indicated approaching fire for half an hour before its arrival. Its coming could be heard long before the fire reached the pit mouth. It could be seen licking up the timbers in the mine, and the steady stream of water which rippled down the slope seemed only to inspire and encourage to wilder efforts the angry fiend. All efforts to extinguish the flames have proved fruitless, and the buildings in the vicinity have been torn down to prevent the fire spreading.

AN EXPENSIVE VOTE.

One Man Costs the Louisians Lottery

Company Over Six Millions. The Senate Committee to which the Lottery bill passed by the House was referred reported it back, increasing the amount to be paid by the Louislana State Lottery Company for the privilege to $1,250,000 a year, instead of $1,000,000, and for the entire period of twenty-five years $31,250,000. This change was due to Mr. Lawton, of Algiers, who, when the question came up, announced that he would vote against the bill unless the amount paid by the company was increased $350,000, to the amount offered by the English vadicate. This was agreed to by fr of the lottery company, and Lawton then cast his vote for the bill, thus assuring its passage, but costing the company $6,250,000. The additional $250,000 goes to the General Fund of the State. and can be used by the Legislature for any purpose whatever.

Who Can Bent It?

When the complete census returns have been received at Washington there is a prospect that the claims of various localities throughout the country to the possession of the oldest living inhabiant may be finally decided. Philadelphia, however, is the first in the field with a candidate. This is Mrs. Catharine Sharp, who owns up to having put in 112 years of life on this blissful sphere. She is the head of a family of five generations. All of them live in the same house, and, with two exceptions, all are women. Her daughter is seventy-two years of age, her granddaughter 42, her great granddaughter 22, and besides these there are two great-great grandchildren. The male portion of the household comprises the husband of the granddaughter and the son of the 72year-old daughter.

Cholora in Prance.

The cholera has appeared at Auray. Brittany and other places in Western France, while two cases are reported at Marseilles and one case at Lyons. This news has occasioned intense excitement in Paris, as the city is now so short of water that several arrondissements are reduced to getting their supply from the Seine, and statistics show that such a condition of things usually leads to epidemics of typhoid fever and diphtheria.

Railroad Strike Settled.

The Illinois Central railroad strike is settled, the strikers giving in on the 27th, and trains are now running. The strikers were assured that Division Superintendent Russell will be kept strictly within the bounds of his duty.

Miss Mary Siess, a young lady of twenty-eight years living in Lima, had not taken a mouthful of solid food for twenty-eight days up to the 27th. The doctors say her case has no parallel in medical science. For eight years she has not been able to sit or stand erect. She is bent almost double, her face now being on a level with her ankles. The primary cause of her trouble is thought to have been a large tumor, which appeared upon her bowels in October, 1879. This and spinal trouble have brought about her present condition.

General Camacho Incites His Followers to Porcible Resistance of the Government A new attempt at a revolution has taken place in Bolivia under the leader-ship of General Camacho, who was alciamento. This exiled General launched a rebellious proclamation, dated, "May 7, frontier of Bolivia," which was printed on May 17, in the opposition pa-per of La Paz, "El Imparoial," and favorably commented upon by the same organ in its number of May 18. Camacho is the chief of the liberal party in Bolivia in opposition to the alleged reactionary and Clerical party, represented by the President, Senor Arco, who was accused of intending to place the whole country under a state of sloge. General Eliodoro Camacho left Pune to carry out his revolutionary schemes, but the Government authorities at Aruro had been put on the alert, and they imprisoned the principal agents of this conspiracy—the Curate, Ruben Camacho: the retired Colonel, Lavadenz; two other officers, also retired from active service, and three civilians. Senor Panda, a wealthy mine owner, was arrested and transferred to the jail at La Paz. Meanwhile, Colonel Aguirre organized an armed band in the environs of Colquechaca and attacked the city of Cochapumba, but he was defeated by the Government forces under command of General Lopez and Antezana. The insurgents had eleven killed, twenty wounded and twenty prisoners. The regular troops losing two men killed outright, and five mortally wounded. Street Car Brake Strikes a Plumber's Key, Which Strikes the Driver's Revolver, Which Explodes, the Ball Striking the Plumber, Killing Him.

Timothy Liddy, a plumber, met his death in Indianapolis, Ind., in a strikingly peculiar manner. He was a passenger on one of the open cars on the Massachusetts avenue line, and was seated immediately behind the driver. He was carrying a "street key," with which to turn off water connection, one end of which intruded on the space reserved by the driver for free use of the car-brake. There was a stop made to take on a passenger, and as the driver released the brake the handle flew around with great violence, striking the key, and forcing it against breast pocket of the driver with such violence that a revolver therein was discharged, the bullet ranging around and striking Liddy's head near the right temple, penetrating the brain. He fell in an unconscious condition, and died shortly after removal home. The car was crowded with passengers. Thos. George, the driver, immediately surrended himself to the police, but the death of Liddy was so clearly an accident that no charge was filed against

STOLEN BANK NOTES. Unsigned Bills of the Market National in Circulation in Denver. When the cashier of the Denver Manufacturing Company made their deposit at the German National Bank, Denver, Col, on the 26th, the teller threw out six ten-dollar bills and refused to accept them. The notes were not counterfeit, but did not bear the signatures of the president and cashier of the bank from which they were issued. Treasury number is E 9798, Bank Note 3642, Series 1882, on the Market National Bank, Cincinnati. A man of about twenty-three years entered the salesroom of the Denver Manufacturing Company and purchased a sixty-dollar saddle, paying for it in these notes. He took the saddle and went to Roop's livery stable and purchased a horse for $170, paying for it with unsigned notes. He saddled the horse and rode off toward the mountains. When he less the stables he had about $3,000 in these bills. Something over $300 of this money was offered at the banks. Officers are on his trail.

Railway Strikers at Chicago.

A crisis in the big strike of the Illinois Central trainmen at Chicago, was reached the 26th. After an all-day session, the conference between the strikers' committee and the Illinois Central officials ended with a positive refusal on the part of the railroad company to discharge Superintendent Russell. This was the ultimatum as far as the company was concerned. The strikers show no signs of weakening, and unless some compromise can be effected the 27th, nothing can prevent the strike spread-

BROKEN OUT!

How often do we see this on the faces of children and, alas, of people who otherwise are healthy? What causes it? Bad Blood. The thought is terrible; the trouble is worse. No ordinary help can remove it. It requires something unusual. Do not take cheap sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. You must have something that has proven its power in both Europe and America. General Wheat-croft Nelson, of London, says: "My experience in the English army, as well as in America, convinces me that nothing so thoroughly purifies the blood, or adds to the health, vigor and life, as Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir."

This grand Elixir is sold by druggista in all parts of America. It is a good, pure, honest medicine. Try it to-day.
